PHILADELPHIA HOGS HAVE
FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

Pigs Feeding Near League Island
Navy Yard Found to Be Infected.

Philadelphia may be entirely isolated as far as hog, cattle and dairy shipments are concerned, if the sudden appearance of foot and mouth disease near League Island navy yard develops alarming proportions. The state authorities have urged hog owners to slaughter their animals immediately, as the disease may spread to the 3,000 hogs which feed in the "hock" near League Island. These animals feed, for the most part, on refuse from the city of Philadelphia, but the inspectors are not certain whether the disease has been conveyed to them in that way.

At present the disease is in a mild form, and may spread. For that reason the officials point out that it is more economical to slaughter the hogs for food now, before the disease spreads, than to wait for the infection and then be forced to slaughter the animals at a loss.

The fact that these animals at Philadelphia are threatened is coupled with a statement from the Department of Agriculture that hogs have suffered from the present outbreak of foot and mouth disease in greater proportion than ever before.

The officials are inclined to believe the contagion has spread through the use of uncooked skimmed milk and other creamery by-products returned to the farm to be fed to the pigs.

PLACED IN EDITOR'S CHAIR.

P. J. Ryan Chosen to Conduct Plate Printers' Official Organ.

P. J. Ryan, member of the District bar, was unanimously elected editor of The Plate Printer, the official organ of the International Union of Steel and Copper Plate Printers of North America, at a meeting of the Plate Printers' Local Union No. 2 held last evening in Typographical Temple. Mr. Ryan is a plate printer by trade, and since beginning the practice of law several years ago has been legal representative of the plate printers.

It is an ardent advocate of the principle that the money of the country should be printed in the highest style of the art of plate printing, as a protection against the use of counterfeit money.

Charles T. Smith was elected associate editor and business manager of the paper.

John J. Deviney and Harry L. Carroll were chosen delegates to the international convention of the Steel and Copper Plate Printers of North America, which is to be held in Philadelphia in June. Frank J. McKennan and David Fulton were selected as alternates.

RELIEF PLAN DISCUSSED.

Committee and Stephen E. Kramer
Confer on Scheme for Teachers.

To consider the feasibility of organizing a relief association for teachers of the public schools, similar to those conducted in some of the departments of the federal government, a committee met with Stephen E. Kramer, assistant superintendent of schools in his office today. If such an organization is deemed practicable, tentative plans are to be drawn immediately and submitted to the teachers.

In addition to Mr. Kramer, the committee comprises A. T. Stuart, director of intermediate instruction; Allan Davis, principal of Business School; Dr. E. G.
Kimball, Dr. Homer M. Johnson
and R. W. March, supervising principal; Miss Catherine R. Watkins, director of kindergartens, and Miss Emma S. Jacobs, director of domestic science.

Gaining Strength in West.

"The people in the west are realizing more and more what the President and his administration have done to keep this country out of foreign complications. They believe that Wilson will keep the country out of war, and that there will be no war with Europe or with Mexico just so long as this country can remain at peace and maintain its honor."

This fact, said Senator Lewis, is gaining the President strength throughout the country.

"I believe that if business conditions continue to improve in this country the democrats will win," said Senator Lewis. "And our strong argument will be just that argument which the republicans used to beat us democrats when President McKinley was a candidate for re-election in 1900. The country in 1900 was beginning to be more prosperous after four years' struggle. The country as a whole was opposed to the Philippine policy of the republican administration, and we democrats attacked that policy and made our campaign on that issue. But the republicans contented themselves with saying 'Let well enough alone' and that won for them."

U. S. FOREIGN RELATIONS
TO BE BIG ISSUE IN 1916

Barnes-Roosevelt Row to Have No Bearing on G. O. P. Nomination, Senator Lewis Says.

Thinkers Democrats Will Win if Business Conditions in Country Continue to Improve.

"The suit of Mr. Barnes of New York against Col. Roosevelt will have no bearing whatever on the race for the republican nomination for the presidency next year," said Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois yesterday afternoon, just before boarding a train for Chicago.

"This is April, 1915, and the nominating convention does not take place until June, 1916," continued Senator Lewis. "What transpires at the trial of the Barnes-Roosevelt case will have been forgotten long before the year is out. Such matters do not live in the public mind beyond a few months. If Roosevelt should offer himself as a candidate his supporters may try to use as campaign material anything that develops during the trial. It seems to strengthen him. His opponents may use anything which developed apparently harmful to him.
But my opinion is that it is not going to have anything to do with getting Mr. Roosevelt or any one else the nomination."

Senator Lewis said that turning the spotlight on Col. Roosevelt, and the consequent publicity, heavy out of the trial of the Barnes case, would be only a nine-day wonder, and that the people would speedily forget all about it.

Surfited With Sensations.

"The people of this country have been surfited with such sensations," said Senator Lewis. "The big issue in the next campaign for the presidency is going to be the foreign relations of the United States. The situation in Europe and the policies adopted by the United States toward the European nations now at war will be the all-absorbing topic before this country when the next campaign is on."

"I have just come from the west and I am just going back to Illinois. The prospects are brightening in Chicago.
Business is better. I believe that the conditions in this country will continue to grow better right along. When the war broke out the business men of the country were at a loss what to do. No one knew how far the mensuration would extend. But the limits of the confederation are now pretty well defined. It is pretty sure that this country will not be drawn into the war. It is pretty sure that none of the other neutral countries will become involved, except, perhaps, Italy.
That being the case, the business men here are beginning to invest their money again and to put it into enterprises. This means a boom to business.
The tariff has nothing to do with the situation which has existed in this country since last August. The war would have presented a wall against the importation into this country of foreign goods no matter what the tariff might have been."

Gaining Strength in West.

the International Union of Steel and
Copper Plate Printers of North America, at a meeting of the Plate Printers'
Typographical Temple. Mr. Ryan is a
tive of the plate printers.

It is an ardent advocate of the principle that the money of the country
of the art of plate printing, as a pro-
money.

Charles T. Smith was elected associate editor and business manager of the paper.

John J. Deviney and Harry L. Carroll
were chosen delegates to the international convention of the Steel and Cop-
per Plate Printers of North America,
which is to be held in Philadel-
ternates.

Confer on Scheme for Teachers.

To consider the feasibility of organiz-
with Stephen E. Kramer, assistant superin-
mediately and submitted to the teachers.

In addition to Mr. Kramer, the committee comprises A. T. Stuart, director of
intermediate instruction; Allan Davis,
principal of Business School; Dr. E. G.
Kimball, Dr. Homer M. Johnson
and R. W. March, supervising principal;
Miss Catherine R. Watkins, director of
director of domestic science.

Gaining Strength in West.

its honor."

the country.
